cancellation

- If you cancel your place on the trip the 20% deposit payment is not refunded. However, if you notify Clare in writing and subsequently all 14 places for the trip are filled when bookings close on 31st January 2024, you will receive a partial refund.

- Should you cancel before 31st January 2024, payments you may have made above the 20% deposit will be fully refunded (less total bank charges, and the 20% deposit, considering the variation above).
- If you cancel after 31st January, 2024 you will forfeit the full payment.
- If the holiday has to be postponed due to Covid-19 related conditions in Zambia, new dates will be booked. Your deposit and balance payment can be applied towards the new dates.
- Covid-19 is no longer considered a pandemic making trip cancellations for this reason highly unlikely.
- Travel Insurance is essential to cover your health and cancellation for any unforeseen reasons

COVID-19 issues

- Zambia currently doesn't require visitors to test for Covid pre travel nor on arrival. (April 2023, at the time of writing.)
- Zambia works to keep their borders safe and open because it is necessary for tourism; business, particularly mining and agriculture; and for the transportation of domestic goods. As a traveller this is reassuring for all potential travel to and within the country.
- While it is presently felt that the world is returning to the open nature of travel pre Covid-19, this situation may change. It is important to check your government website with the latest requirements and regulations for travel.
- The Safari lodges we are staying in are 100% compliant with the latest Zambian requirements for Covid-19 and are maintaining international standards of sanitisation, social-distancing, and health checks as appropriate.
- A safari, time in the outdoors with few people around, is the most Covid-19 appropriate travelling you can do. There is plenty of space and fresh air offering an opportunity to safely relax and nurture your body and general health.
- Ensure you have complete insurance health cover. While there are excellent medical services in Lusaka, the capital, this is distant from our locations and in an emergency situation you may need air lifting to medical facilities.

Thank you for your interest and I hope you join me on this wonderful adventure.
